TAJ USHA KIRAN PALACE GWALIOR

TAJ USHA KIRAN PALACE GWALIOR

Famous for its dramatic and dominant hilltop fort, which the Mughal emperor Babur reputedly described as the pearl of Indian fortresses, Gwalior makes for an interesting getaway. The Usha Kiran Palace is a 135 year-old heritage retreat built by HH Maharaja Jayaji Rao Scindia as an annex to the Jai Vilas Palace. The ancestral home of the Scindia family is designed in an Indo-Western style, and noted for its carved sandstone filigree screens. The Usha Kiran Palace is a 40-room elegant heritage hotel located 25 kms. from Gwalior Airport.

The Usha Kiran Palace located on a lush 9-acre landscaped estate in Gwalior, Madhya Pradesh, about 120 kms south of Agra, is a majestic historical property with lavish interiors. The Royal Suites evoke Gwalior's regal heritage with period furnishings and ornate accessories such as Venetian mirrors, mother-of-pearl mosaics and canopied beds. History is an ingredient that is all pervasive which is found even in its culinary flavours. Savour closely-guarded recipes from the kitchens of the Royal Family of Gwalior, accompanied by the soft strains of classical music from the Gwalior Gharana. Usha Kiran Palace is a medieval masterpiece that summons memories of a glorious past.
